Secret Factors to Consider Before Clicking "Add to Cart"

To prevent purchaser's remorse, shoppers should examine several critical elements before purchasing a treadmill online.

1. Motor Power (CHP)

The motor is the heart of any treadmill. Measured in Continuous Horsepower (CHP), it figures out how smoothly and reliably the belt will move under your weight.

- 1.5 to 2.0 CHP: Best for walkers and light joggers.
- 2.5 to 3.0 CHP: Ideal for regular joggers and homes with mixed-use walking and running.
- 3.0+ CHP: Essential for major runners, heavy everyday usage, and interval training.

2. Running Deck Size

Nothing ruins a workout faster than feeling like you will step off the back of the maker.

- Length: Walkers can get away with a 45-to-50-inch deck, however anybody who runs or is taller than 5 feet, 8 inches should search for a deck that is at least 55 to 60 inches long.
- Width: A basic width of 20 inches offers comfy clearance for a lot of runners.

3. Weight Capacity

Constantly inspect the maximum user weight capacity. As a rule of thumb, it is best to choose a treadmill with a weight limit that is at least 50 pounds much heavier than the heaviest user in your family. This makes sure the motor and frame will not be exhausted.

4. Cushioning Systems

If you have sensitive joints (knees, hips, or lower back), search for treadmills with adjustable or improved cushioning systems. Good shock absorption can lower impact by up to 30% compared to operating on asphalt.
