What is the Limbo Crypto Game?

At its core, Limbo is a simplified, high-speed gambling game popularized by modern-day crypto-casinos (often described as "stake games"). Unlike complicated slot makers with multiple paylines or poker, which requires intricate technique and psychology, Limbo strips gambling down to its bare fundamentals: a target multiplier and a roll.

The facility is simple:

1. The player sets a target multiplier (e.g., 2.0 x, 10x, and even 1,000 x).
2. The gamer puts a wager using a cryptocurrency of their option (such as Bitcoin, Ethereum, GBPT, or Dogecoin).
3. The game generates a random number.
4. If the created number is higher than or equivalent to the target multiplier, the gamer wins. If it falls below, the wager is lost.

The name "Limbo" plays on the famous phrase "How low can you go?"-- though in this case, gamers are often attempting to see how high they can climb up.

How Limbo Works: The Mechanics Behind the Screen

The game counts on a mix of server seeds, customer seeds, and nonces to generate the result.

- Server Seed: Generated by the casino and hashed before the bet is positioned.
- Client Seed: Provided by the player's web browser (or personalized by the gamer).
- Nonce: A number that increases by one with every bet placed.

Since the server seed is concealed behind a cryptographic hash till the player exposes it, the casino can not control the result after the bet has actually been placed.
