

Gathering signage is one of those details that guests may not consciously notice when it is proper, but they will definitely recognize when it is absent. Signage fulfills several functions: it welcomes guests, it guides them, it informs them, and it adds to the general aesthetic of the festivity. This resource courtesy of the team at Kollysphere will walk you through everything you need to know about gathering signage—encompassing welcome signs, menus, and bar menus.

Beyond Directions

Celebration signage is not merely about telling people where to go. It involves creating a cohesive, welcoming, and informative experience for your guests. Proper signage assists attendees in feeling oriented and valued. It transmits important information clearly and beautifully. And it contributes a layer of polish and professionalism to the gathering.

Types of Party Signage

Kollysphere suggests incorporating the subsequent categories of signage at your party.

Welcome Signs

A welcome sign is the first item of signage your attendees will observe. It determines the atmosphere for the entire event. The team suggests positioning a welcome sign at the entry or at the front of the location. It can be a chalkboard, a wooden sign, an acrylic sign, or a printed poster. It should include the birthday person's name, the occasion, and maybe an enjoyable quote or a warm greeting.

Menus

Menus are another essential type of party signage. They inform attendees regarding the food and drink choices on offer. The team recommends producing gorgeous, legible menus that match the overall aesthetic of the event. Think about featuring dietary information, like meat-free, plant-based, wheat-free, or nut-free choices.

Bar Menus

A bar menu is a specific type of menu that lists the drink options on offer at the bar. Kollysphere suggests creating a stylish bar menu that matches the overall aesthetic of the function. Contemplate featuring signature cocktails, mocktails, and non-alcoholic options.
